Libel Correspondence.

We publish below a somewhat curious correspondence showing a disturbance of the equanimity of Robert Crichton Wyllie, Esq., for which we are very sorry. We take pleasure in informing our friends and the public that we are still alive and propose to continue the even tenor of our way, doing what we conscientiously believe to be our duty towards the Government, the Public and Mr. Wyllie. ROSEBANK, 14th August, 1856.

Sir—I have, respectfully, to inquire the name and address of the party who is responsible for the Editorial in the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, No 7, of this date, published by you, in which an appeal is made to me personally, under a designation which does not in any sense, belong to me.

I require this as an individual right.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
your most obedient humble servant,
(Signed) R. C. WYLLIE.

Publisher of the Pacific Com. Advertiser, &c.

HONOLULU, August 15th, 1856.

His Excy. R. C. WYLLIE,
Minister of Foreign Relations, &c., &c.,

Sir—Your favor of yesterday's date is just at hand. In reply to your inquiry, I beg to state that in accordance with the rule laid down by me on the commencement of the publication of the Commercial Advertiser I consider myself as responsible for every Editorial article that may appear in its columns, whether prepared by myself or not. And so far as regards the Editorial in the said paper of August 14th, 1856, I am responsible for it.

I have the honor to remain
your most obedient servant,
HENRY M. WHITNEY.

FOREIGN OFFICE, 15th August, 1856.

Sir—I have received your copy of this date, making yourself responsible for the Editorial Article published by you yesterday.

Having made yourself thus responsible, I beg to know if that Editorial was published with the knowledge, approval, and sanction of, or at the instance of, the Trustees of the Seamen's Home Society; and if so, that you will favor me with a list of their names.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
your most obedient humble servant,
(Signed) R. C. WYLLIE.

Publisher of the Pacific Com. Advertiser, &c.

HONOLULU, August 15th, 1856.

His Excy. R. C. WYLLIE,
Minister of Foreign Relations, &c., &c.,

Sir—I have received your favor of this day, and in reply to your inquiry would state that the Board of Trustees of the Seamen's Home, of which I have the honor to be a Member, have had nothing to do with anything that has appeared in the Commercial Advertiser, other than the Correspondence between Prince Lot and them which I was requested to publish, and I think the same request has been made of the Polynesian.

With regard to the list of Members of the Board of Trustees, I think that the Secretary of the Board will take pleasure in furnishing you with the names of those who compose it.

I have the honor to be, &c., &c.,
HENRY M. WHITNEY.

(COPY.)

FOREIGN OFFICE, Aug. 15, 1856.

Sir—I have received your second letter of this day in which you assert that the Board of Trustees of the Seamen's Home of which you have the honor to be a member, have had nothing to do with anything that has appeared in the Commercial Advertiser, other than the correspondence between Prince Lot and them, which you published by their request.

However unwillingly and however contrary to the good opinion which I had always heretofore entertained of you, I am forced on your own evidence to believe that you, on your own authority, in your editorial of yesterday insulted H. Royal Highness, Prince Kamehameha, by ignoring the rank which he holds as Acting Minister of the Interior, and without any provocation or just cause, placed me in a position which I have never held nor desired to hold, and having done so presumed to interrogate me in the name of the public on four points, the first three of which if not self-delusions of the most ludicrous and gigantic kind are, and can be proved to be, malicious falsehoods, calculated, when connected with your preceding editorial remarks, to persuade the public that I am a man in my private and public life unworthy of trust, and of such bad faith as to be ruining the credit of the Government, and finally concluding your attack with a most presumptuous and insulting threat.

Moving so singled me out for destruction, strong in the right of self-defense, I have to apprise you that, unless you do as a Christian and gentleman, clearly and unequivocally retract and apologize for in your next No., every imputation that you have made upon me in your last, I shall afford you an opportunity to prove them all to the letter under a suit for libel in the first degree, and for damages adequate to the injury which you have intended to do me.

Subject always to the pleasure of higher authority, I engage, if you prefer the latter alternative, that you shall not want evidence of the highest kind that can be desired, whereby to measure the veracity of your own operations or the limitation of my title to complain that you have defamed and calumniated me.

I have the honor to be, Sir, &c., &c.,
(Signed) R. C. WYLLIE.

HONOLULU, August 16th, 1856.
8 1/2 o'clock, A. M.

R. C. WYLLIE, Esq., &c., &c., &c.,

Sir—I received last evening your letter of the 15th, in which inter alia you charge me with an attempt to "defame and calumniate your character." Having taken time for reflection on the subject matter of your communication, which I deem personally offensive and insulting, I give you liberty to withdraw the same any time before 12 o'clock this day.

I shall exceedingly regret to be placed in the attitude of hostility to you, from which position your letter will leave me no alternative.

I cannot believe that your letter was dictated with your ordinary discretion, and therefore give you the opportunity to withdraw it as above.

I have the honor to be, Sir, &c., &c., &c.,
HENRY M. WHITNEY.

FOREIGN OFFICE, August 16th, 1856.
At 4 past 10, A. M.

Sir—I have, this moment, received your letter of this morning, from the express terms and spirit of which I infer that you decline to make the reparation which a Christian and a Gentleman would readily make for the false and libelous imputations made pointedly to me, in the Editorial of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of the 14th, of which you have assumed the entire and undivided responsibility, as I had offered to allow you to do, with another alternative less desired by me.

It would be unbecomingly in me to say that I disbelieve the sincerity of your expression of exceeding regret at being placed in an attitude of hostility to me; but I may remark that such a profession is not very consistent with the obvious eagerness with which you assumed a hostile attitude to me, in the said Editorial, without my having a consciousness of one previous deed, word or even thought, towards you, ever since your arrival on the Islands, that was not kind and friendly.

On my part I cannot reciprocate the expression of regret for a hostility towards you which I have never felt, nor, even now, feel; you have been pleased to place me on the defensive, under a most savage attack made upon every feature of my character, which I hold dearest; you have refused to repair the injury; and I shall, now, unless in your next issue, you make that just and costless reparation, seek redress in the Courts of the Country.

In seeking justice for myself I disclaim any incentive of hostility to you.

Your letter, now acknowledged, closes all correspondence on this painful subject between you and me, but if, on further reflection, you wish to add anything to it, be it fair that I should inform you, that you can address Alexander Campbell, Esq., who is my Attorney, in this case.

I have the honor to be, Sir, &c., &c., &c.,
(Signed) R. C. WYLLIE.

BARNUM (THE SHOWMAN) & BANKRUPT.—An examination was (at the date of the last accounts from the United States) going on in New York into the affairs of the celebrated T. P. Barnum, with a view to ascertain the amount of his property and his liabilities, a gigantic speculation with the Jerome Clock Company having caused his ruin. The N. Y. Herald, which gives the examination, thus moralizes on his failure:—"The author of that book glorifying himself as a millionaire from the arts and appliances of obtaining money from false pretences, is according to his own statement in court, completely crushed out. All the profits of all his Fejee mermaid, all his woolly horses, Greenland whales, Joyce Hottis, negroes turning white, Tom Thumbs, and monsters in impostors of all kinds, including the reported 70,000 dollars received for the copyright of that book, are all swept away, Hindoo palace, elephants and all, by the late invincible showman's remorseless assignees. It is a case eminently adapted to point a moral or adorn a tale. But if the world has heretofore looked on with admiration and astonishment at Barnum's shrewdness, talents and successes, it will now learn with equal surprise the astounding fact that all his splendid enterprises and their golden returns of 20 years have been swallowed up in a single confidence speculation in Yankee clocks—a Yankee clock speculation which the great financier has fully eclipsed the folly, credulity and carelessness of any confidence case ever heard of. The history of the great showman is thus, however, consistently wound up. The poison of that demoralizing book is thus effectively rendered innocuous. It can do no further harm. The forfeit is paid. He has made a clear atonement, and sacrificed all. He is entitled to some little credit for it. The public therefore, may now freely sympathize with Barnum as the victim of misplaced confidence in Yankee clocks; and the whole community will be pleased to learn that in spirit he is not broken down, but he has yet the activity required to start with the world again in less ostentatious, but more honorable business career than that which has made him a Jeremy Diddler, a mountebank, a millionaire and a bankrupt."

FAT MEN.—There is something cordial about a fat man. Everybody likes him, and he likes everybody. Your Ishmaelites are, in truth, a burlesoned race; a lank tribe they are, skeleton and bile. Food does a fat man good; it clings to him; it fructifies on him; he swells nobly out, and fills a generous space in life. He is a living, walking minister of gratitude to the earth and the fullness thereof; an ingratitude testimony against the vanities of care; a radiant manifestation of the wisdom of good-humor. A fat man, therefore, almost in virtue of being a fat man, is, per se, a popular man, and commonly he deserves his popularity. In a crowded vehicle the fittest man will ever be most ready to make room. Indeed, he seems to be half sorry for his size, lest it be in the way of others; but others would not have him less than he is, for his humanity is usually commensurate with his bulk. A fat man has abundance of rich juices. The hinges of his system are well oiled; the springs of his being are noiseless; and so he goes on his way rejoicing, in full contentment and placidity. A fat man feels his position solid in the world; he knows that his being is cognizable; he knows that he has a marked place in the universe, and that he need take no extra pains to advertise mankind that he is among them; he knows that he is in no danger of being overlooked. It does really take a deal of wrong to make one really hate a fat man; and if we are not always as cordial to a thin man as we should be, Christian charity should take into account the force of prejudice which we have to overcome against his thinness. A fat man is nearest to that most perfect of figures, a mathematical sphere; a thin man to that most limited of conceivable dimensions, a simple line. A fat man is a being of harmonious volume, and holds relations to the material universe in every direction; a thin man has nothing but length; a thin man, in fact, is but the continuation of a point.—Henry Giles.

THE AMERICAN MERCHANT.—The American merchant is a type of the restless, adventurous, onward-going Anglo-Saxon race. He sends his merchandise all over the earth; stocks every market; makes wants, that he may supply them; co-ers the New Zealand with his southern cotton, woven in the northern looms; builds blocks of stores in the Sandwich Islands; wraps with the Feejee umbrellas; sends the whole ship upon the icebergs of the poles, or to wander in solitary seas, till the log-book tells the tedious sameness of years, and boys become men; gives the ice of a northern winter to the torrid zone; piles up Fresh Pond on the banks of the Hooghly; gladdens the sunny savannas of the dreamy South; and makes life tolerable in the bungalow of an Indian jungle. The lakes of New England awake to life by the rivers of the sultry east, and the antipodes of earth come in contact at this meeting of the waters. The white canvas of the American ship glances in every nook of every ocean. Scarcely has the slightest intimation come of some obscure, unknown corner of a remote sea, when the captain is consulting his charts, in full career for the terra incognita.—Hunt's Magazine.

HINTS ON CORRESPONDENCE.—If the following suggestions were strictly obeyed by letter-writers, there would hardly be any necessity for a deal-letter office. Always put a stamp on your envelope at the top of the right hand corner. At the head of your letter, on the right hand, put your address in full, with the day of the month underneath. Write as concisely as possible, as if you were speaking; and do not revert three or four times to one circumstance, but finish up as you go on. The superscription and the subscription should alike be in accordance with the tone of the communication, and the domestic or social relation of those between whom it passes. Let your signature be written plainly, and never cross your letters as long as paper can be procured at its present cheap rate. If writing to a stranger for information, or on your own business, do not fail to enclose a stamp. Give to titled persons their proper directions. Always use a full sheet of paper—not a piece, and I never suffer a letter to go out of my hands which looks unclean, or is folded or directed in a bungling and unworkmanlike style.

A FABLE BY CHARLES LAMB.—"My dear children," said an old rat to his young ones, "the infirmities of age are pressing so heavily upon me, that I have determined to dedicate the short remainder of my days to mortification and penance, in a narrow and lonely hole which I have lately discovered; but let me not interfere with your enjoyments. Youth is the season for pleasure; be happy, therefore, and only obey my last injunction, never to come near me in my retreat. God bless you all." Deeply affected, snivelling audibly, and wiping his paternal eyes with his tail, the old rat withdrew, and was seen no more for several days, when his youngest daughter, moved rather with filial affection than with that curiosity which has been attributed to the sex, stole to his cell of mortification, which turned out to be a hole, made by his own teeth, in an enormous Cheshire cheese.

A WORD TO BOYS.—Boys, did you ever think that this great world with all its wealth and woe, with all its mines and mountains, oceans, seas and rivers, with all its shipping, its steamboats, railroads and magnetic telegraphs, with all its millions of darkly groping men, and the science and progress of ages, will soon be given over to the boys of the present age?—Boys like you assembled in school-room, or playing without them, on both sides of the Atlantic. Believe it, and look around upon your inheritance, and get ready to enter upon its possession. The kings, presidents, governors, statesmen, philosophers, ministers, teachers, men of the future, are all boys who cannot reach the floor when seated upon benches upon which they are learning to master the monosyllables of their respective languages.

THE POETRY OF WHALING.—The Whaleman Transcript says:—"The wealth of the ocean pours in upon New Bedford in massive amounts. Four whale-ships arrived in one week, and add probably about $500,000 to her coffers. It is an interesting sight (adds the Transcript) to see a whaleship which has ploughed stranger waves for three or four years, returning to its native haunts loaded with treasure for its owners, and bearing yet richer treasure for every heart that greets on deck a returning friend."

There's one advantage in being rich, and that is that a rich man is never contradicted. Unanimity goes as naturally to corner lots and pocket books, as exults and moonlight fighting. This is why rich men take on so much as they do. Nobody will dispute with a man whose endorsement he may obtain by judicious flattery. If you want to borrow money of a man, take sides with him when you catch him in an argument. Nothing like it!
